

Charlie Kelly AWARD

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

It's time to cast your vote for the greatest promoter of tourism in the region for 2010-2011. We are seeking nominations for the Charlie Kelly award, granted to the individual who has contributed the most to tourism in Grey and Bruce counties in a given year. Past winners have included Chris Hughes, former tourism manager for Bruce County (now of BC Hughes Consulting), Chris Tomsett, retired parks superintendent for MacGregor Point Provincial Park, and Stacy Charlton, owner of the Sconeview Bed & Breakfast in Chesley.

The Charlie Kelly award, sponsored by Bayshore Broadcasting, is presented each year at the annual Grey-Bruce Regional Tourism Conference. This year's conference will take place October 26, 2011 at the CAW Family Education Centre in Saugeen Shores. This award is open to all tourism organizations and businesses in Grey and Bruce. Nominations are encouraged from both the private and public sectors, and people may nominate themselves. The deadline for nominations is October 12, 2011.
